1. The following observations were made in Gdynia
- a. Three destroyers (its name could not be read), were in naval basin 2. The latter two sailed out
- b. Four submarines, one submarine, larger than the above-mentioned four and with a modern stream-lined conning-tower; and one schooner-rigged training vessel were in naval basin 1.
- c. One naval vessel, presumably a tender, was lying in buoys some distance away from the quay in the Lumber Harbor.
2. The harbor has two large tugboats which function as icebreakers in the winter; however, they are not good in heavy ice and have to be assisted by Soviet icebreakers. One of these tugboats was built in Aalborg, Denmark. In addition there are two new motor tugboats, one of which is called ACHILLES, and one steam tugboat, ZUBR.
3. A large unidentified tower can be seen from the sea between Rixhoeft and Wladyslawowo (Grossendorf), almost right behind the latter place.
4. Two naval vessels were alongside a jetty each inside the breakwater in Hel harbor. In addition there were six vessels on the landward side (see sketch). A new pier is under construction.
